

Video - How Connected We Are (2 min)

Welcome.

Welcome to a brand new day. The new way of getting things done.

Welcome to a place where maps are rewritten, and remote villages are included. A place where body language is business language. Where people subscribe to people, not magazines. And the team you follow now follows you. (crowd cheering)

Welcome to a place where books rewrite themselves. Where you can drag and drop people wherever they want to go. And a phone doubles as a train ticket, plane ticket, or lift ticket.

Welcome to a place where a wedding is captured, and recaptured again and again. Where a home video is experienced everywhere at once. Where a library travels across the world. Where businesses are born. Countries are transformed. And we're more powerful together, than we ever could be apart.

Welcome to the human network.